

Camp Hill Edwardians Swimming Club

Latest News Notifications from Twitter

As most of you are aware there was an incident at the school pool recently that meant that it was closed for a couple of days at short notice.

Every attempt was made to inform all the club members that training sessions were cancelled but due to the last minute nature of this event unfortunately the messages didn't always get through in time resulting in wasted journeys.

The information was posted on the CHE website www.chesc.org.uk on the News Page as part of the twitter feed and on the CHE Facebook Group but obviously if it wasn't possible to check these resources before setting out you may not have known.

As one possible solution to assist with this it is possible for you to get notifications from the @camphillesc twitter via text message as soon as it is updated.

You don't need to be an avid twitter user and spend your life posting to it and reading it. All you need to do is set yourself up a simple twitter account, follow @camphillesc and set-up SMS notifications to your mobile phone and then forget about it!

Basic Set-up Instructions

From your computer browser go to the website www.twitter.com

Complete the "New to Twitter" sign up process

Enter your name:
(This will be shown on your twitter account)
This isn't your user name, that comes later

Your Email address
Needed for account validation

The screenshot shows the Twitter sign-up page. The browser address bar shows 'https://twitter.com'. The page has a dark red background. On the left, there is a 'Welcome to Twitter' message with a photo of people on a beach. On the right, there is a sign-up form. The form has three main sections: 'Sign in' (with fields for 'Username or email' and 'Password'), 'New to Twitter? Sign up' (with fields for 'Name', 'Email', and 'Password'), and a 'Sign up for Twitter' button. The 'Sign up for Twitter' button is circled in red. The 'Name' field contains 'Camp Hill Swimmer', the 'Email' field contains 'swimmer@chesc.org.uk', and the 'Password' field contains asterisks. There is also a 'Remember me' checkbox and a 'Forgot password?' link.

A valid password for future access

Press the Button!

The next page validates your entries and allows you to enter a username.

This will be your unique @name that you see on twitter and must not have already been taken – So if you chose JohnSmith you may be out of luck!

When you are happy with your choices

Press the Button!

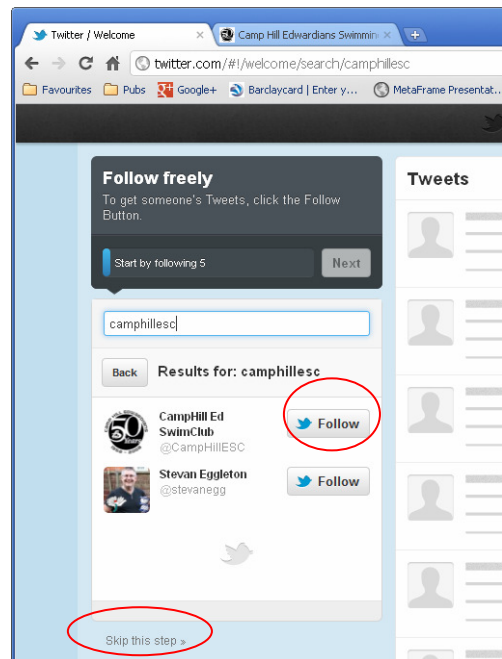

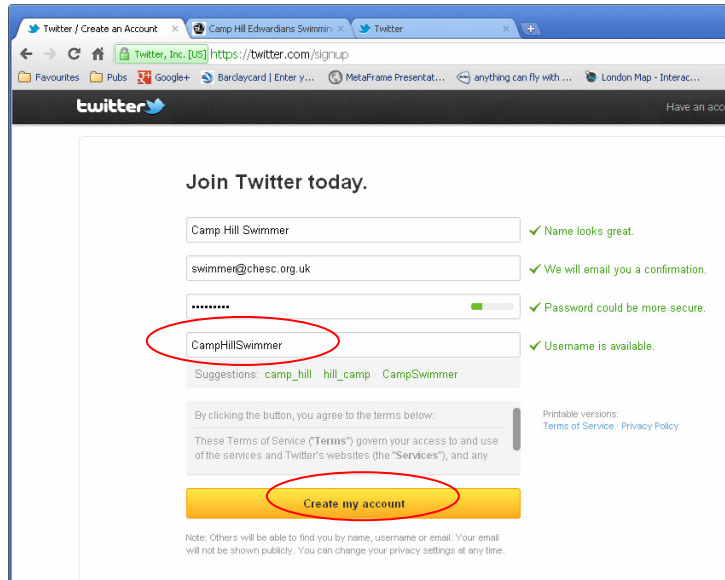

You will then be taken through a few dialog screens that attempt to get you to follow other users

You will need to find and follow

@camphillesc

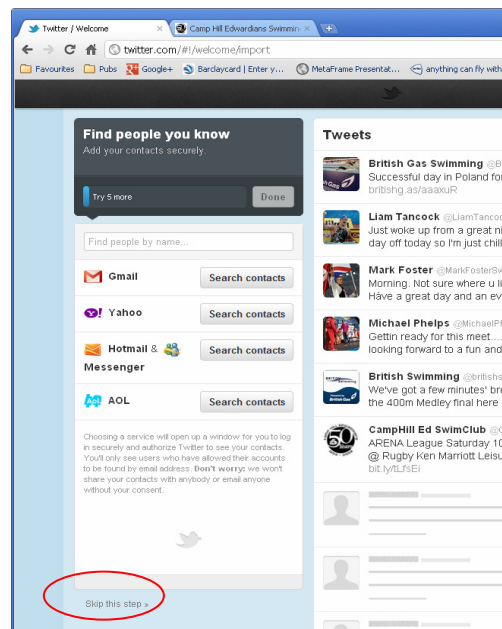

So enter this into the search box and when you see the Camp Hill account hit the follow button

You can then select other “interesting” people to follow if you like or can click on the “skip this step” option

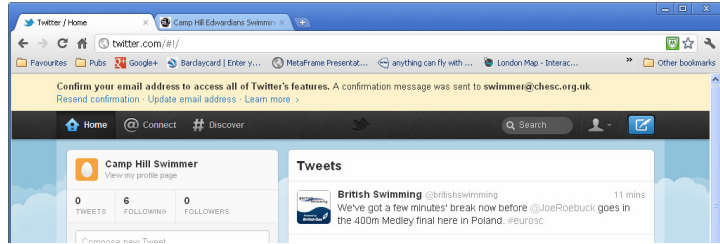

The next step attempts to get you to connect with other people you know using your contact list

You have the option to “Skip this Step”

Twitter will then send you an email to the address you specified – click on the link in the email and this will confirm your twitter account and allow you into the rest of the settings.

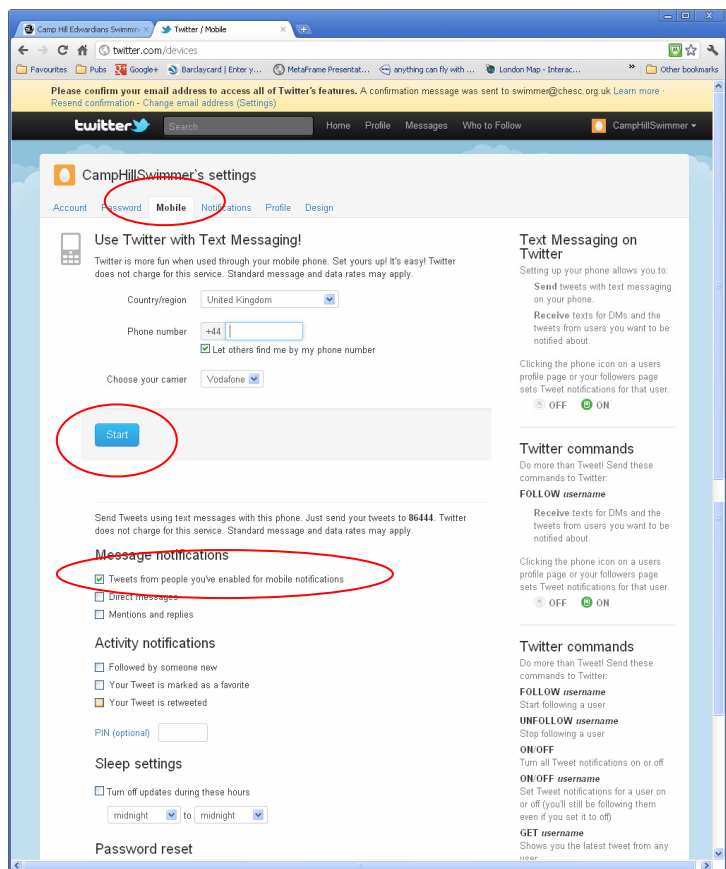

Once the account is verified you can now change the “Settings” which can be accessed from the drop-down menu on the right hand side of the main tool bar.

Select “Settings”

From the “Settings” screen select the “Mobile” tab

Enter in the phone number details required to enable twitter to send you an SMS text message.

Press the “Start” button

Complete the rest of the Text messaging section

Make sure

“Tweets from people you’ve enabled for mobile notifications” is ticked.

The rest should be un-ticked (unless you want lots of messages!)

Now save your settings and return to your Twitter “Home” Page

You should see the “tweets” from @camphillesc (and any others you’ve chose to follow)

By clicking on any mention of @camphillesc you should be given a dialog box which enables you to change the settings.

Click the “Drop Down” Button next to “Following” and click on “Turn on SMS Tweets”

This is now set-up so that whenever a new @camphillesc tweet is posted you will receive a notification and the message direct to your mobile phone.

Now close down the page and forget!
